Northern Illinois' Oldest Baptist Church Marks 125th Anniversary

By VIRGINIA SASS

The 125th anniversary of the Marley Baptist Community church will be celebrated Oct. 5. This church is the oldest Baptist church in Northern Illinois, the organization having been founded in 1833, one week before the First Baptist church of Chicago.

When Rev. Allen B. Freeman came to Chicago in 1833 as missionary of the American Baptist Home Mission Society, he heard about a nucleus of Baptists at the O'Plain Settlement, about 30 miles southwest of Chicago in the prairie wilderness. As the Chicago Baptists were not quite ready to organize, Rev. Freeman set out for the O'Plain Settlement where, on October 5, eleven Christians of Baptist faith met in the cabin of Abram Snapp, binding themselves together and to God by a solemn covenant.

Meetings were held in cabins of the neighborhood within a radius of eight or nine miles and a horse often bore two and sometimes three to a meeting.

This little church grew and prospered and in 1849, accepted the kind invitation of the Presbyterians at Hadley Corners, three miles distant, to occupy their house of worship half of the time on Sunday. In 1850 they decided to build at Hadley, the business center of that area. Having located here they changed the name to Hadley Baptist church.

It was a thriving church, for about 20 years when, with the decline of Hadley Corner and denominational pressure, the church weakened. Eighteen members were released to form a church at Mokena. It became necessary to combine the services at Hadley with the work at Marley. This led to building a church at Marley which was dedicated on Jan. 6, 1901, as the Marley Baptist church.

In 1914 it became a community church accepting members of all faiths and has since been called the Marley Baptist Community church.

Special services are being held at the church Oct. 6. The morning service will begin at 10:30 with Rev. E. L. Hurley, Northern area representative of the Illinois Baptist convention, delivering the morning sermon, which will be followed by Communion. As part of the morning service the new shelter house in Haley Park will be dedicated.

The afternoon service will begin at 2 o'clock with guest pastors taking part. The message will be delivered by the Rev. Henry L. Rust, former Marley minister from 1916-1921, who is now pastor of the Congregational church at Dodge Center, Minn. A tea will follow the program.

The committee in charge of this special event are the Rev. Ray Hamer, pastor; Mrs. Ed. Ward Sproat; Mrs. Loren Sass; Mrs. Adella Sproat; and James Frazer.

Growth Loads Lincoln-Way High; Board Studies Expansion Plan

Increasing enrollment and crowded facilities are once again becoming major problems for the L-W Board of Education. After several conferences with the architects and members of the faculty, an overall plan is being studied to provide a building for 1,500 students. The necessary additions to accommodate this number will have to be developed as the need arises. In order to avoid costly mistakes this overall plan is necessary.

Eight years ago, the bureau of research and field studies at the University of Illinois, forecasted 600 students by 1960.

The building was then designed for this number with many provisions for future expansion. This enrollment figure was reached during the last school year.

Starting the new school year this month, 690 students have enrolled. Only 125 of his total are in the senior class indicating an increase next year of an additional 80-100 students.

After several conferences in order to study the many problems, a tentative priority order for future consideration was developed. Actually, there are several critical areas where further expansion is a necessity. Many departments in school have already doubled in students enrollments. The general shop program, arts and crafts, all science courses, math, vocal and instrumental music, home economics and cafeteria are typical examples of critical crowded areas.

The new addition completed last March did greatly improve the emergency conditions existing during the 1957-1958 school year. Now with 90 more students, the building is again being used up to almost 100 percent capacity.

A large number of classes and study halls are entirely too large for proper supervision and learning. Several of the physical education classes for girls and boys have over 50 students with three having over 60 in one class. All math and science classes are completely filled with a waiting list for someone to drop out or transfer. New students coming in from other high schools frequently cannot be admitted to certain classes.

In the overall planning for the immediate future, the board of education decided to: 1. Enlarge the physical education facilities;

2. Enlarge the Music department; 3. Add three regular class rooms; 4. Provide more student eating area; 5. To double the floor space for the general shop program. It is also necessary to provide additional toilets in the new addition. Extra toilets were not included in the last addition.

Childs & Smith, architects have estimated that the cost for this expansion will amount to approximately $300-$350,000. Tentative plans are presently being developed by the architects which should more definitely and accurately estimate the actual cost.

Board members during their last meeting recommended that these suggested plans be further developed in order to properly present them to the public. A referendum could then be submitted to the voters next January for their approval of the necessary bonds.

More detailed study will be given to the maturity dates for these bonds in order to keep the overall tax rate about the same as it is at present. The original $1,200,000.00 bond issue will be reduced by $245,000 with the annual payment Nov. 1.

New Lenox Man Saves Girl, 3, After Crash

A New Lenox man, Arnold Horn, 57, of 338 Francis road, is credited by state police with saving a 3 year old girl's life late Monday afternoon following an automobile accident near Orland Park.

The child was hurled out a car when the vehicle went off the road and landed face down in a water filled ditch. State troopers who arrived later at the scene said it was prompt action of Horn in getting the youngster out of the water so artificial respiration could be applied, that saved her from death.

The little girl was taken to a hospital, as were the other occupants of the wrecked car. None were seriously injured and the youngster who almost drowned, Karen Randolph, of Chicago, suffered a fracture of the right wrist in addition to shock.

Mrs. Horn, who was with her husband at the time, said they were enroute home from Chicago where Mr. Horn is employed as a salesman by a soft drink firm. It was a little after 5 o'clock. The Horns were traveling on U. S. 6. Near 137th street Horn noticed the car ahead of him suddenly swerve and plunge off the pavement and into a ditch. At the moment these were the only two vehicles at that section.

Horn pulled up even with the wrecked car and then leaped out to begin rescue operations. The driver of the car, Mrs. Mildred Zalac, 43, Chicago, and four passengers, appeared in no immediate danger. Horn saw then that a child was lying in the ditch, face down in the water.

He pulled her out and placed her on the ground. She did not appear to be breathing. At this juncture a man suddenly appeared and began the use of artificial respiration. This was kept up until an ambulance reached the scene, about 20 minutes later. Who the man was was not determined. Horn did not get his name nor did police. Mrs. Horn thought that perhaps he came from Orland.

In the meantime Mrs. Horn had stopped some passing motorists to get aid. One driver went on to Orland where he could telephone. Others stopped and helped extricate the people caught in the car. Besides Mrs. Zalac there was her son, Joseph, 6; Mrs. William (Continued to page 8)

Frankfort Farmer Comes Down Chute of Toppling Structure

A 45 foot steel silo, filled with 200 tons of corn silage, collapsed on the John J. Ludwig farm in Frankfort township, last Thursday afternoon while the tenant, Thomas Williams, at the top of the structure worked feverishly to disengage the blower pipe.

Then with the structure slowly heeling over, Williams came down the inside chute and reached safety before the silo hit the ground.

As Williams emerged from the toppling silo he shouted to his wife Hazel, who had been helping him fill, to get in the clear. He estimated that between three and four minutes elapsed from the time he felt the first tremor until the silo lay flat on the ground. No one was injured and there was no damage to the machinery used to fill the silo.

Later Mr. Williams said that when he felt the first tremor he thought that it might have been due to silage settling. Then he suddenly realized that the silo was moving away from the barn. It was then he began his slide for life. The silo was south of the barn and it fell to the east. The chute was on the north side of the silo. It is used in getting silage down.

The silo was constructed in sections and was 12 feet in diameter. It was put up about 15 years ago. The last section, the one anchored to the ground stood. The break occurred at the second section. Every bolt on one side of the structure was broken loose and when it struck the ground the roof was ripped off and came to rest about 12 feet from the silage laden tube of steel.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were alone on the farm when the incident occurred but a short time later neighbors arrived and helped them salvage the contents of the silo. Earl Christiansen, of Green Garden, used a torch to cut away large sections of the steel so that men could get the silage out.

The feed thus salvaged was blown into another silo that was empty.

A new silo, this one of concrete staves, is to be erected by the owner and Williams hopes it will be ready in the next two weeks, or at least before there is frost.

Cause of the collapse of the structure has not been determined.

The farm is located half a mile south of Frankfort on Center road.

Water Meters Are Replaced Without Charge In Mokena

A recent item in the News-Bulletin which stated that owners of defective water meters in Mokena will have to pay for a replacement was in error.

The village will replace such meters with a new one without charge. The old meter will be considered as a deposit on the water bill.

Announce Money Raised by Taggers On 'Doughnut Day'

"Doughnut Day" volunteer taggers raised $121.83 in Orland Park; $57.23 in Mokena; and $48.64 in Frankfort, for the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Karl Ekberg, 14332 Beacon ave., Orland Park; Mrs. Jacob Barenz, 253 E. 1st st., Mokena; and Mrs. Robert Burns, 112 Walnut st., Frankfort, joins with the Salvation Army in expressing sincere appreciation for the generous assistance of the taggers and contributors.

Total "Doughnut Day" contributions reached nearly $170,000.

Saturday to be Registration Day In Will County

Residents of Frankfort and New Lenox townships who are eligible to vote but are not yet registered may remedy this situation on Saturday, Sept. 20.

Precinct registrations will take place at the regular polling places from 12 noon to 9 pm.

In Mokena registrations will be made at the Cooper and Hostert garage; at Frankfort in the village hall.

There are four polling places in New Lenox:

No. 1—fire station; No. 2—basement of Grace Episcopal church; No. 3—basement of the Robert McCleary residence; 917 N. Cedar st., No. 4—George Marshall store, N. Cedar st., near lumber yard.

To register one must be a citizen, 21 years of age now or will be by election day, Nov. 4; a resident of Illinois for one year, of the county 90 days and the precinct 30 days.

Persons who have changed their names thru marriage, divorce or court action should register under their new names. In Frankfort township one may move about rather freely without leaving a precinct, since there are but two in the entire township.

A move is reported to be on foot to make additional precincts in Frankfort township. More than 1,400 persons are registered in the Mokena precinct, which makes for a slow count and exhausted judges and clerks.

Precinct registration is being carried on under a new election law for downstate counties.

Mokena Firemen Elect Officers

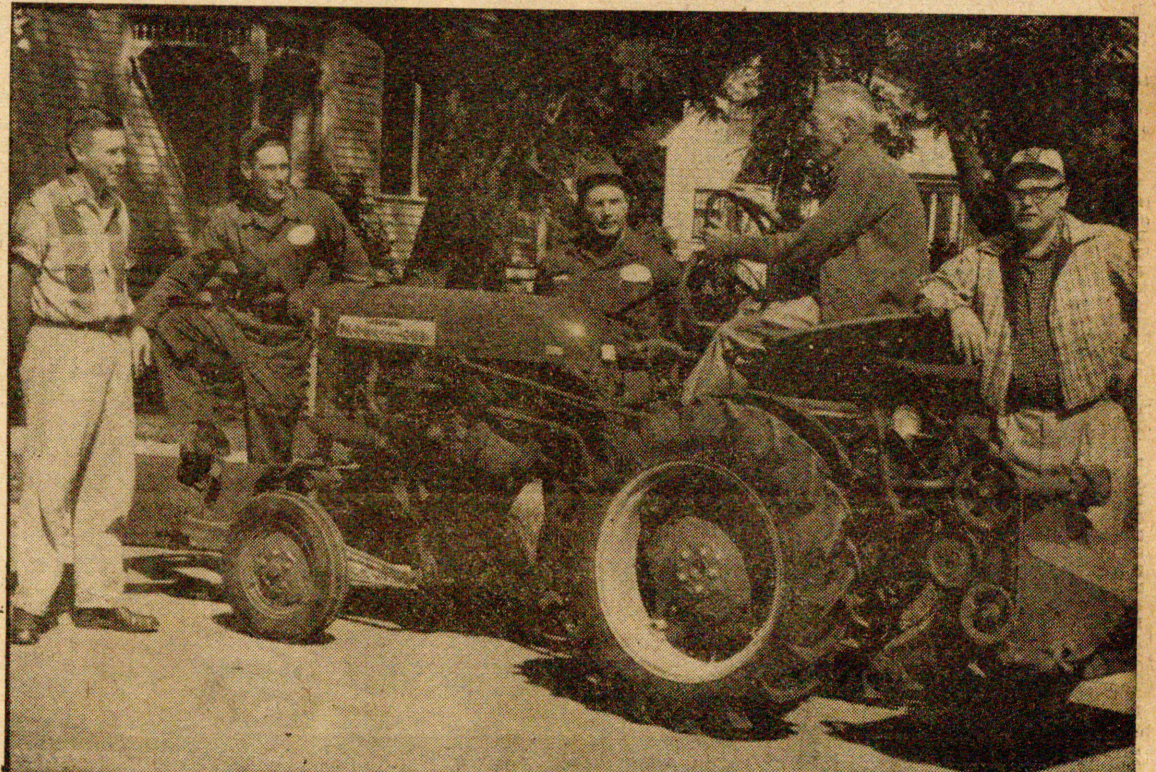

The Mokena volunteer fire department elected officers at the annual meeting held in the engine house in the village hall.

Eric Book, who has been treasurer of the organization, was elected president, succeeded Mayor James Marti.

Stanley Williams, secretary, and Arthur Hostert, chief, were re-elected to those posts. Two new members were elected to the board of directors, Roy Newton, and Fred Werner. Werner was also named treasurer to succeed Book.

Other members of the board are Walter Kopp, Carroll Roberts, Raymond Knieriem and Russell Lauffer.

A training course for firemen, conducted in conjunction with the civil defense program, is to begin tomorrow night under the direction of Wayne Cundiff. Mr. Cundiff was an instructor in fire fighting in the U. S. Navy. These training classes will be conducted weekly at the engine house.

SELBY HIRSCH— Park Commissioner in Tinley Park, tries out the new tractor-mower recently purchased by the village. Admiring this latest piece of equipment are left to right, Allen Verhage, trustee; Wayne Ackerson, department of public works employee; Bob Powers, superintendent of department of public works; and Mayor Elmer Knudsen.

Orland Pupils
Get Lessons
On Bike Safety

Pupils in Orland Park elementary school who ride bicycles to and from school will be instructed tomorrow on how to manage their bicycles with safety to themselves and others who use the street.

The instruction will be given by specialists of the Cook County Traffic Safety Commission. First, the youngsters will be given a lecture covering traffic laws, courtesies of the road and the particular rules applying to bicycle riding. Then they will ride through a safety lane test set up with traffic signs and otherwise simulating a street. Those who pass will be given cards certifying their proficiency and also carrying their pledge to practice safety.

Slogan of the program is "The Child Behind The Handlebars Will Be The Man Behind The Wheel."

Thus far the program has been introduced in 370 public and parochial schools in all parts of the County, said John J. McCleverty, executive secretary of the Commission. Lectures have been given to 144,000 pupils and 58,161 have taken the test. Children in all grades hear the lectures but only those old enough to ride bicycles are tested.

About 85 per cent of pupils tested are able to pass, two per cent fail the first time. Thirteen per cent do not measure up fully, but are permitted to ride with restriction to home area. The restricted riders and the failures, however, are given another chance to pass the following year.

For the reason that the program is continuous, returning to the same schools year after year, it has been endorsed as outstanding by the Bicycle Institute of America, according to President Daniel Ryan.

Daniel Ryan, President of the Cook County Traffic Safety Commission, and Superior Judge Richard B. Austin, chairman, have received enthusiastic cooperation of suburban school authorities, police chiefs and parent teacher associations.

Assisting in presentation of the program in Orland Park will be the following: School Superintendent Norbert Oerling and Police Chief Eugene Yunker.

Lectures in the schools are given by George Glaser, supervisor of the bicycle safety program for the Commission, and eight assistants consisting of two team for the Safety Lane tests.

Oak Forest Hospital Observes
50th Year at Ceremony Sunday

Ceremonies observing the 50th anniversary of the creation of Cook county's Oak Forest hospital (founded as a poor farm) will be held Sunday, Sept. 21. Daniel Ryan, county board president, announced today.

Joining with the county in staging the affair for the large, sprawling institution at 159th street and S. Cicero ave. is the adjoining village of Oak Forest which will be observing (with a parade) its sixth annual "I Am An American Day."

In explaining the occasion, Ryan said:

"We should not let the half-century mark for this great, charitable institution pass unnoticed."

"Most of the institution's 337 acres were purchased by the county board on Jan. 27, 1908, but the improvements were not started until late that year. "Historical records show that the first contract was let on Sept. 21, 1908. That was for the construction of the water works, consisting principally of a well with a few pipes leading away from it."

During the next two years, Ryan pointed out, the major portion of the institution's original buildings were completed. These consisted of 19 infirmary buildings and a few livestock barns and granaries.

The institution was opened on the first week in December, 1910, when 1,731 inmates were transferred to it from the previous county poor farm at Dunming, northwest of Chicago.

A large proportion of the inmates of that time were sufficiently able-bodied to work on the farm, producing large amounts of foodstuffs consumed at the institution, Ryan further pointed out.

Population peak of 4,292 inmates was reached in January of 1932, during the depth of the depression.

"From that point on, however, the nature of the institution began to change," Ryan explained. "With our Cook County hospital greatly overcrowded, we transferred more and more of our chronic disease patients to Oak Forest."

"By 1954 so many of the Oak Forest inmates were hospital cases that we no longer could depend upon any of them for help on the farm, so that year discontinued farm operations and removed the old farm buildings."

"In 1956 the state department of public health licensed the entire institution to operate as two hospitals—one for the care of the chronically ill, and the other for the care of the tubercular."

"Operated as a hospital, more bed space is required than was necessary when most of the inmates were able-bodied. That is why, even with some 60 buildings now, we can accommodate only about 2,300 in the chronic disease unit, and 450 in the tubercular unit."

"We on the county board are increasing the amount of bed space wherever possible, and soon shall add a three or four story wing to the receiving department, creating space within it for another 300 beds."

According to C. W. Jones, president of the village of Oak Forest, the parade will form at 151st street and S. Cicero ave. Starting at 2:15 p.m. it will make its way southward to the band stand within the hospital grounds.

It will feature floats, marching Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, fire engines, and four bands, including the Fifth Army Band and the Thornton Township high school band. Also participating will be the Drum and Bugle Corps of the 45th Artillery Brigade Air Defense of Orland Park.

Ceremonies at the hospital, scheduled to start about 3 p.m., will feature brief speeches by President Ryan, President Jones of the village of Oak Forest, County Commissioner James F. Ashenden, chairman of the county board's Oak Forest hospital committee, Superintendent Carl K. Schmidt of the Oak Forest hospital, and the Rev. Wm. Henzlik, pastor of the Methodist Church of Oak Forest.

Walter C. Dohl, hospital recreational director, will serve as master of ceremonies. Some 1,000 ambulatory patients will be among the spectators.

At the conclusion of the outdoor ceremonies, the Fifth Army Band will give a concert in the hospital auditorium for the patients, including many whose beds can be wheeled in for the occasion.

President Ryan said the public is invited to attend and that

Experts Say
Yes and No on
Corn Topping

From 1950 to 1952, research was conducted at Urbana to determine the value of mechanical topping for hastening the field drying of corn. These studies showed that mechanical topping, like chemical topping, had only a minor effect in reducing moisture content to a safe storage level. If topping is done before the corn is actually mature (around 30 to 35 percent moisture, the yield is apt to be reduced. These conclusions were released by the Will county farm extension service.

"Even though corn topping may not be practical from the guided tours of the institution will follow he outdoor ceremony.

standpoint of field drying, certain harvesting advantages may be realized from it" the report states. "Altho we have no data to provide evidence, some farmers have reported such advantages as less lodging, easier picking (less clogging of the snapping rolls), cleaner picking with less trash in the corn, and better shelling efficiency if harvesting is done with a combine."

"If you are interested in corn topping, you may wish to try it on a small scale in your own field this fall. Somewhere away from the edge of the field, top a small part of two or four rows by hand just above the ear. When you harvest the corn, note any differences in lodging, ease of harvesting, or other traits. If possible, compare yields of the topped rows with those of the same amount of untopped corn next to them. Your farm adviser would undoubtedly like to know the results of such a test. It might be best to contact him beforehand so that he could give

Lifelong Tinley Residents Mark 50th Anniversary at Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Andres of 6908 W. 173rd pl., Tinley Park, will mark their Golden Wedding anniversary on Sept. 29. To celebrate the occasion an Open House will be held Sunday, Sept. 28, in the Tinley Park Methodist church from 2 to 5 p.m. All relatives and friends are invited to attend. The honored couple request that gifts be omitted.

In the receiving line will be their daughter, Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Jochum, and granddaughters, Sharon and Loreley Jochum. Their daughter and son-in-law will celebrate their 23rd wedding anniversary on the same date as their parents' 50th anniversary.

Mrs. Andres, the former Lydia Bettenhausen, and her husband were both born on farms several miles southwest of Tinley. They were married in the Methodist parsonage at 68th court and 173rd pl., Tinley Park on Sept. 29, 1908.

In 1923 they sold their farm at 171st st., west of the village and moved into a new home on Oak Park ave.

Mr. Andres was employed with the Rock Island Railroad after retiring from farming, until 1933. He was later employed with the Superior Dental and Manufacturing Company of Blue Island until retirement in 1957. He is presently a director of the Green Garden Insurance Company, attending monthly meetings of the organization.

The couple are lifelong, active members of the Methodist church, first in the German Methodist which was located on 171st st., where the Tinley Memorial cemetery is now located. When the German and English conferences merged, they transferred their membership to what is now the Tinley Park Methodist church.

Both have served for many years on the church board. Mrs. Andres has served as a Sunday school teacher for 50 years. She is also a charter member of the Ladies Aid, now called the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Well known thruout the area, the honored couple enjoy reasonably good health. Their hobby is gardening and beautifying the grounds of their home.

During its short existence, under the leadership of Mrs. Bruce Rooney, president, the league has conducted many worthwhile projects, some of which are: Informing citizens of their voting precinct and delivering pamphlets reminding them to register. It has studied and become familiar with school finance, judicial reform, and water conservation. A "Know Your Town" committee, under Mrs. Garland Deinert, has conducted a survey which will soon be published.

The Voters Service committee, under chairman, Mrs. Mary Hutchinson, has also explained details of a primary election, cost and other information, as well as the use of voting machines.

A national, non-partisan organization, the purpose of the league is to get more citizens, men and women, interested in local, state and national governments.

First officers elected were Mrs. Hans Hartmann, President, Mrs. Albert Buddenhagen, secretary, and Mrs. Carl Goebel, treasurer. One of the first projects of these ladies was to see that a cement sidewalk was laid between the church and the old parsonage on 174th street. This group of ladies also sent clothes to orphans.

In 1929 they contributed to the cost of a new parsonage and also built the parsonage garage and had sidewalks laid and a well dug for the church cemetery. They also purchased the altar and pews for the church. Through all these years gifts of money were sent to the various Lutheran charities and sick and shut-in members were always remembered. A relief fund was also maintained for the purpose of helping needy families within the church.

During war years the servicemen from the church were remembered with gifts and in recent years with monthly correspondence.

Many other projects were undertaken, as painting of the church, purchasing new church windows and choir robes.

United In Double Ring Ceremony

The Green Garden Methodist church was attractively decorated with palms and gladioli for the wedding ceremony which united Miss Carol Lou Ullrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ullrich of Monee, and James Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gardner, 3250 W. Monroe st., Chicago.

The Rev. John B. Vautrin officiated at the double ring ceremony, held on Aug. 31, at 3 p.m.

A friend of the bride, Mrs. Norman Gill, served as organist. Malcolm Vanderheyden, a cousin of the groom, was soloist. His numbers were "Oh Promise Me" and "At Dawning".

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was radiant in a white slipper satin gown, styled with a scalloped neckline trimmed with seed pearls and rhinestone. The sleeves were long and tapered and the gathered skirt was of waltz length. Her veil of illusion was secured by a queen's coronet of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Her only jewelry was pearl earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias.

Mrs. Donald Hoffman, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a camellia pink crystalate waltz length gown, matching hat and gloves, and carried a colonial bouquet of white mums centered with pink tea roses. Her pearl earrings were a gift of the bride.

The bridesmaid, Mrs. LeRoy Eldridge, wore a dusty rose gown identical to that of the matron of honor.

Serving the groom as best man was Mason Beard, brother of the groom. Groomsman was Donald Hoffman, brother-in-law of the bride. Ushers were Roger Ullrich, brother of the bride, and Duane Vanderheyden, cousin of the groom. The bride's mother wore a royal blue sheath gown with matching accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. The groom's mother was dressed in a light blue gown with white accessories and similar corsage.

The two grandmothers who attended the wedding wore corsages of orchid and white mums. The three grandfathers had carnation boutonnieres.

A reception for 150 guests was held following the ceremony in the church basement. A centerpiece of white gladioli graced the bridal table. Servers were Miss Joyce Scheer, Miss Beverly Bettenhausen, Mrs. Sue Connors, Mrs. Bernice Anderson, and Miss Betty Kampe. Punch was served by Miss Irene Eden and coffee by Miss Patricia Torok. Mrs. Marie Kline served the wedding cake. Mrs. Roger Ullrich had charge of the guest book.

The young couple honeymooned at Lake Geneva, Wis. and are making their home at 1307 Eagle st., Joliet.

The bride is employed at Silver Cross hospital and the groom is employed at Adair Cartage Company in Chicago.

Knights Down Lemont 7-0 in Opener

Score Winning Touchdown On Pass In Closing Minutes Of Game

By BILL SLUIS
The Lincoln-Way varsity squad won their first game of the season Saturday afternoon by beating Lemont in the last few minutes of the otherwise scoreless but exciting game. Fullback Jim McGuire made a pass to Al Pius late in the fourth quarter for the game winning touchdown. The Lincoln-Way frosh-sophs also won, 20 to 6.

The varsity game was especially heartbreaking for Lemont because the Indians dominated most of the game with their running and passing. The Lemont offense, however, couldn't get past the Knights defense when it counted the most. Lincoln-Way was bailed out of real trouble on several occasions by the tremendous punting of Tom Peterson.

During the first quarter the Indians had control of the ball most of the time. The highlight of the period was the 63 yard march the Indians made, only to be stopped as the period ended on the the L-W four-yard line.

When play resumed, Lemont fumbled and Lincoln-Way recovered. The Knights made little headway, however, and Tom Peterson was called in to punt. The ball slid off the fingertips of an Indian defender to give the Knights the ball again. The remainder of the second quarter was taken up by a series of trade-offs between opposing forces.

The third quarter opened with Larry Surges' kick which Lemont brought back to their own forty-five. Once again Lemont had mastery but the Knights held firm and neither side scored.

Quarter four began innocently enough. Little headway was made by either team until Lemont began a fast march straight up the middle of the field. Their effort reached its climax two yards from the goal line when the Knights rallied and stopped them cold. The Knights moved the ball four yards and then Tom Peterson crushed Lemont with a 55 yard punt. Lemont did little to benefit from their possession, however, as several plays later Lincoln-Way intercepted a pass to regain the ball. The spectacular McGuire-Pius pass play gave the Knights their lead and a sneak run by Hughes made the extra point.

In the frosh-soph game, which preceded the varsity contest, Coach Bill Cady's squad trounced the Indian frosh-soph by a score of 20-6.

Interest began to run high among Knight rooters when, on the third play of the game Dan Fenn ran forty-one yards for a touchdown and the extra point was made, and the quarter ended with the score that way, 7 to 0.

In the second quarter Skip Krulich slid thru for six yards and another touchdown but the try for the extra point failed. At half time the score stood L-W 13, Lemont 0.

In the third quarter the Knights made it 20-0 on a touchdown pass from quarterback Skip Krulich to Wayne Lauffer. Try for the extra point was good.

In the fourth quarter the Indians got to the one-yard line where Jim Stanek intercepted a pass and ran ninety-nine yards for what seemed to be a TD. There was a red flag on the play, however, with the ball being restored to Lemont. This time the Indians scored. With the extra point, the score at the end of the game stood at Knights 20, Lemont 7.

Coaches Lashmet and Cady hope to continue their teams' successes Saturday against Bremen. This first conference contest between the Knights will be held at Lincoln-Way with the frosh-soph game at 12:00 noon and the varsity contest at 2:00.

All-Stars Take Lutherans 15-13 In Wild Contest

Sunday afternoon the Tinley Park Church league All-Stars knocked off the league champion Lutherans, when a 4-run Lutheran rally in the ninth inning, fell short.

Strong gusts of wind and dust were partly responsible for a wild game, which produced 40 hits and 28 runs, as the All-Stars came out on top 15 to 13.

The usually sound Lutheran defense committed eight errors. Lenny Stien, Wally Egger and Bert Jevett blasted home runs for the Lutherans. Russ Andres and Harold Teehan homered for the Stars.

The league champions will receive the first place trophy Saturday, Sept. 20, at the Sports Night program at St. George parish hall.

The church league would like to express its appreciation for the cooperation and support of the Tinley Park Times.

Church League Invites Public to Sports Night

The Tinley Park Church League semi-annual "Sports Night" program, will be presented this Saturday evening, at 7:30, in the St. George school hall.

Feature of the program is the guest speaker, Don Kolloway, former major league baseball star, Kolloway, who now resides at Blue Island, spent 16 years in professional baseball. He played with the Chicago White Sox, Detroit Tigers and Philadelphia A's. The star infielder maintained a life time batting average of .271, before retiring in 1954.

Also on the program is a film in color, of the 1957 World Series between the New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves, which the Braves won, four games to three. Inasmuch as it looks as the two teams will meet again in the series in a couple more weeks, the film should furnish material for current arguments.

Trophies will be presented to the champion Zion Lutheran team and runner-up, Methodist team of the church league soft-ball league.

The program will conclude with refreshments being served. Tickets may be purchased from any player, or at "Rudy's" located in Tinley Park at 17269 Oak Park Ave.

A letter from AJA Kenneth Oldendorf from his station at China Lake, Calif., states he likes that territory and until he gets his squadron in six months, he is driving trucks and hauling gasoline to the planes in the squadron. He says there are more civilians on the base than military personnel, the ratio 10 to 1. They all work on the base. The total population is 12,000. They have schools, super markets and everything any other town has. Kenny says the weather is hot, was 108 at 12:30 the day he wrote, but that it does not feel that hot as the air is dry. Leaders Plan Use of 4-H Show Grounds

A group of 58 men and women met recently at Sportsman's Hall, Manhattan, to hear the latest plans for the 4-H Show grounds at New Lenox. These leaders represented 4-H Leaders, Agricultural and Home Economics Extension Councils, and Farm and Home Bureau boards.

Farm Adviser A. A. Wicklein explained some of the problems to be faced. He also showed a suggested plan for the grounds. 4-H Horse Club members are very interested in this site for their project display.

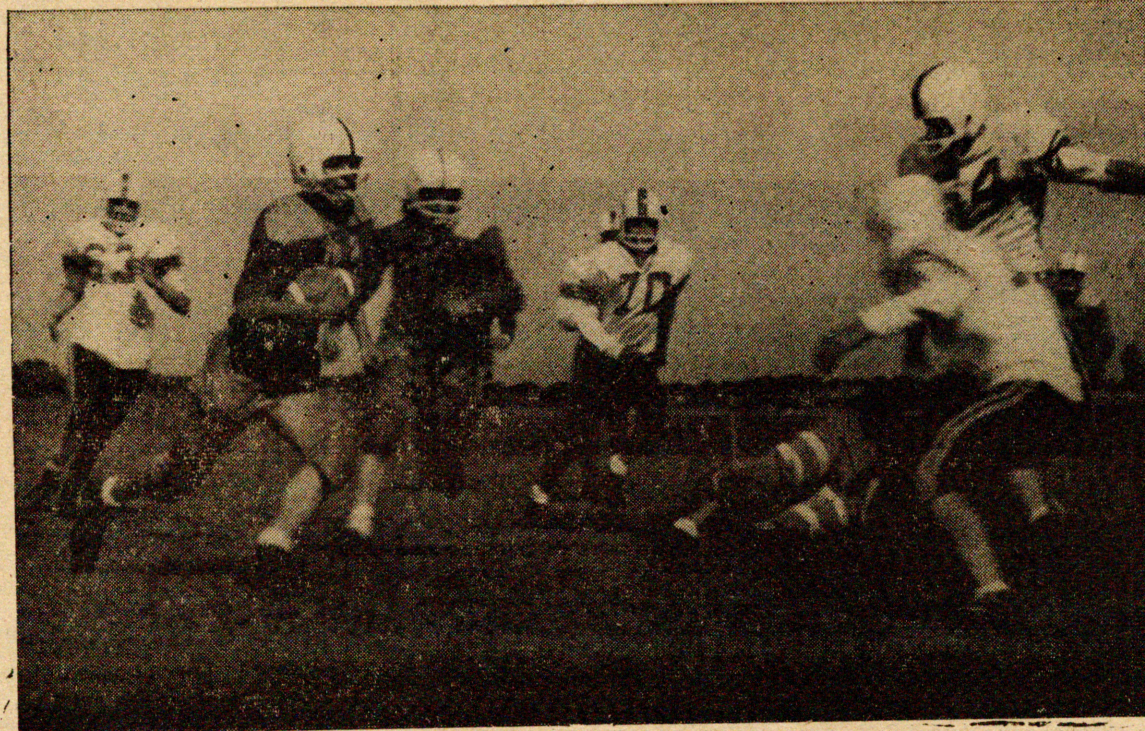

George Brisblin, chairman of the Will County Junior 4-H Fair association, appointed three committees at the meeting -- buildings and grounds, finance and legal.

T he 18 acres of land at New Lenox was given to 4-Hers in Will County by Mrs. Anne Francis in memory of her husband, the late Fred A. Francis, 4-H leader for 18 years. It will remain 4-H property as long as it is used by Will County 4-Hers or events approved by the Junior 4-H Fair board.

Plans are being made to use the show grounds in 1959, even if home tents must be used. Tentative plans call for a Home Economics Center, Administration Center, and several stock buildings.

Methodists to Launch Series of Family Fellowship Nights Sept. 28

By KATHARINE HEISNER
Frankfort 5187

The first in a new series of monthly family fellowship nights will be held at the Frankfort Methodist church Sept. 28. The family nights have been designed with two major purposes in mind. The first purpose is to strengthen the bond of family unity in the individual families of the church and in the "church family". The second goal of the monthly fellowship is to consolidate several meetings involving various age groups into a single night at the church.

The evening will begin with a potluck supper at 6:30 in fellowship hall. Meat, rolls, butter and beverages will be furnished. Each family will bring a large covered dish to pass and their own table service. Anyone unable to come promptly at 6:30 is urged to join the group as early as they can arrive for the remainder of the evening.

At 7:30 p.m. a special program or class will be provided for each age group from nursery thru adults. The regular junior, intermediate and senior youth groups will meet during this period.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The truth that man made in the spiritual image and likeness of God has domination over sin, sickness, and limitation will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

John's account of the walking on the sea by Christ Jesus (John 6:16-21) is included in the Scriptural selections to be read in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter".

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy declares: "In proportion as matter loses to human sense all entity as man, in that proportion does man become its master. He enters into a diviner sense of the facts, and comprehends the theology of Jesus as demonstrated in healing the sick, raising the dead, and walking over the wave" (369:5-10).

The Golden Text is from Leviticus: "Turn ye not unto idols, nor make to yourselves molten gods: I am the Lord your God" (19:4).

Write That Letter—It's Fun!

As any serviceman will tell you, the day's biggest moment usually comes at mail-call, when that long-awaited letter from home arrives.

For shut-ins, the sick and, in fact, almost everyone—a letter received from a loved one is the day's most welcome visitor.

Put writing a letter is also fun, and this year, as it has for 21 years now, National Letter Writing Week serves as a reminder that the personal letter is the almost perfect "hello."

For all the millions of letters written, millions more remain unwritten, and this year's national observance, October 5-11, seeks to "unfreeze" all the blocks against writing. Actually, there are not many good excuses for failure to write letters. Even the busiest people could write one in the time they take to explain why they don't! No one gets so busy that he can afford to let friendships fade away, or neglect the dear ones to whom letters are the only ties to home.

The United States Post Office, which joins in this annual event, reminds how economical letters are as messengers from home. For only pennies, your personal letter travels anywhere in the country. Even the world is quickly, and economically, spanned by mail.

With more and more people traveling vast distances as a result of our expanding economy, the importance of "keeping in touch" increases. Letters keep together families and friends who are separated by miles. A letter of thanks, of congratulations, or one of personal news, restores that feeling of belonging.

At such a time, the perfect gift is a box of stationery to make correspondence so much more convenient. Generally thought of for women, a gift of stationery also is ideal for men. Even children can be encouraged to develop the social graces by helping to send out personal invitations to parties, writing thank you notes, or chatting by mail with cousins and friends.

The time to write that letter you have been putting off is now—and there's fun ahead for both sender and receiver.

Hold Lay Leadership Training Program in ICPT, District 19

The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers is expanding its program of leadership training for parent education chairmen, and other selected representatives of local PTA's in District 19, to be held at the Harvey YMCA, 178 E. 155th Street, Harvey, starting Sept. 25.

This lay leadership training program is intended to train leaders who will be responsible for parent and family life programs and discussion groups in their local PTA units.

Sara Barth Loeb, Chicago, senior staff member of the Association for Family Living, is in charge of this program.

Receiving her education at the University of Missouri, University of Chicago, Columbia University and Southern School Institute in Topeka, Kansas, Mrs. Loeb has been schooled in psychology, education and social science, psychiatry, child welfare, parent education and adolescent psychology, and mental hygiene.

Mrs. Loeb's experience includes having been a High School teacher, Psychology Department head, and presently Dean of Sinai Religious school. She is affiliated with the National Association of Social Workers and Chicago Women's Aid.

Those who enroll in this lay leadership training program learn the techniques of group leadership skills in small "learn-by-doing" groups. The subject matter used by these groups is child behavior—how children develop, what their behavior means, what guidance they need. The topics include:

- 'Meaning of Lay Leadership in Parent Education'
- 'Qualifications of a Good Leader—of a Group Member'
- 'Practice in Group Leadership Skills'

Toward Understanding Children'

'Resources for Discussion Groups and Programs'

'How to organize Discussion Groups'

'Functions of the Parent and Family Life Education Committee'

The program consists of 40 hours of instruction and practice which has been arranged in ten four hour meetings, beginning weekly, Sept. 25 thru Dec. 11.

Mrs. Richard Piehl, of Blue Island Parent Education chairman, and Mrs. Fred Millward, Oak Lawn, district director, urge all local PTA presidents to take advantage of this fine opportunity to enrich their PTA activities.

Cards of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our sincere gratitude to our friends and neighbors who came to our assistance when our silo collapsed last Thursday, and helped to save the silage. A special thank you also to our little neighbor boys, Frank and Paul Fleck who worked hard two days helping to transfer the silage. We think they are two grand young men whom God has blessed our country by their noble character.

MR. and MRS. THOMAS WILLIAMS

We wish to express our appreciation to our relatives, friends and neighbors, for the acts of kindness during our recent bereavement.

In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM

KEUCH, Arthur A. In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather who passed away one year ago Sept. 24.

He little thought when leaving home

He would return no more. That he in death so soon would sleep.

And leave us here to mourn. We do not know what pain he bore.

We did not see him die. We only know he passed away And could not say good bye.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE Churches

Recognition that true substance is spiritual brings individual growth and progress—this fact will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday.

Bible readings in the Lesson Sermon on "Substance" will include the following (1 John 2:15): "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy includes this (239):

ESTHER'S CERAMIC STUDIO

L-W Community Players Select Fall Offering

The Lincoln-Way Community Players, a new theatrical group from the Lincoln-Way high school district has chosen "Ghost Train" for its first production of the season. The play is a three-act comedy by Arnold Redley, full of action and suspense with 11 members of the cast watching and waiting for the "Ghost Train." The play will be shown in the Lincoln-Way high school auditorium the nights of Oct. 17 and 18.

The "Players" was formed last spring when members of the former Mokena, New Lenox and Manhattan player groups met to elect officers and decide on by-laws. The name Lincoln-Way Community Players was chosen as the members are from all sections of the community served by the Lincoln-Way high school. The Parent Teacher Group of the high school agreed to sponsor the players and to help promote their play. The proceeds of the plays are to be used for theatrical equipment in the high school.

Officers are Lewis Loeb, president; Mrs. Kenneth Sherwood, vice president; Mrs. Harold E. Wollan, secretary and Stuart Morrison, treasurer. At the first meeting of the Players early this month, Mrs. Lois Loeb, a professional director, was chosen to direct the first play.

Try-outs were held the next week and an enthusiastic group from all the towns in the community came to offer their services as either an actor or as a worker behind the scenes.

Anyone interested in theatrical work of any kind is invited to join the group at the next meeting, Oct. 7, in the high school.

Arrest Soldier on Complaints of Mokena Residents

Pvt. Leo L. Tischer, 27, 13th Missile Bn., stationed at Orland Park but who resides on Francis road near Mokena, was taken into custody by military authorities yesterday morning and turned over to Will county authorities later in the day on a formal charge of disorderly conduct.

Tischer was arrested following several weeks of investigation by Patrolman Joseph Heim as a suspect on complaint of Mokena juveniles, three boys and three girls. The complaints date back to Aug. 12. Finding a car and a man to fit the descriptions given by complainants was a considerable task but Heim succeeded in doing so Tuesday night. The sheriff's office at Joliet was notified and yesterday a warrant was issued for Tischer on complaint of the father of one of the girls who says she was annoyed by the suspect.

Form Association to Prevent Area Becoming Annexed to Oak Forest

By ANNE RODGER

Determined to thwart any action the Village of Oak Forest may take to annex them, a group of 35 residents in an unincorporated area, have banded together and taken legal steps to form an association with the prime aim and purpose of remaining outside of any village limits.

The name which was proposed for the association at a meeting in the office of Don Moore, an attorney in Oak Forest, and also Bremen Republican Committeeman, is Brennan Acres Improvement Association.

The meeting was called Saturday morning when residents sought legal counsel from Moore because of reports that Oak Forest planned to make an immediate move to annex the area.

Some residents expressed the opinion that if the area was annexed to a municipality, it would be more logical to become a part of the newly formed City of Country Club Hills or Tinley Park, although all were adamant in their purpose to remain unincorporated as long as possible. It was also stated during the meeting that Country Club Hills had approached the subject of annexation to that city.

The area in question which lies between Country Club Hills and Tinley Park, has 400 homes. It is bounded by 167th and Brennan Highway on the north, 175th st. on the south, between Central and Cicero aves. Oak Forest stretches to 167th and Cicero with its most recent annexation of 127 acres at that point.

The tremendous growth taking place in the entire south Cook County area, has prompted many villages to view the outlying unincorporated areas with an envious and protective eye. Municipalities are engaged in a race to pick the plum even before it is ripe to prevent neighboring municipalities from beating them to it.

It is obvious these isolated sections will eventually be swallowed up or forced to incorporate. Regardless of whether or not villages are interested only in the tax revenue to be derived from annexing unincorporated areas, as some residents believe, future growth will force them to make a decision. In the meantime, residents of this area prefer to remain in a state of status quo.

Can Start Work On Country Club Hills School

The question of opening a street and the installation of water and sewer mains to serve the new Country Club Hills school is apparently settled and work on the school can begin as soon as the contractor finds it feasible.

Work has been held up for several weeks because of a disagreement between the school board and the J. E. Merriam Co. the subdividers who developed the Country Club Hills site.

This new school will face south on Clarence ave. That is the way it was planned by the architect. Merriam wanted it to face the north to fit better with his plans for a civic center.

It was brought out that Merriam's civic center plans were brought out long after the plans for the school were made.

A special meeting was held by the school board Tuesday afternoon at which time the Merriam company agreed to extend the sewer and water on 180th street, and also to pave that thoroughfare, to the east point of the school site. The school board plans had called for busses to unload and turn at the south entrance to the school. This has been changed now so they will come to the northwest entrance.

The new school will have six class rooms, an all purpose room, and offices. It will cost approximately $110,000.

The state school building commission will pay for the building of the plant and the board will pay the state, like rent. At the end of 16 and a fraction years the school district will own the building. This is looked upon by the board as a bargain as the district pays no interest as it would have to if bonds were sold to finance the cost. The district was able to finance the building thru the state because it lacked resources of its own for the job.

Park ave., in Tinley Park from 1:30 to 8:30 p.m. on that Monday.

Last year 584 persons in Tinley Park had free chest x-rays in the program. Reported at that time were 13 suspected cases of TB, 5 suspected cases of cardiac disease, and 3 suspected cases of some other type of chest disorder.

Adult Education Classes Begin At Lincoln-Way Tuesday, Sept. 23

The first evening session of the adult education program at Lincoln-Way High school will be Tuesday, Sept. 23 from 7 to 9 p.m. Registration can be made by mail or at the school office from Sept. 16 thru Thursday, Sept. 25. Check should be made out to Lincoln-Way Community High School. The tuition for the ten weeks of instruction is $10.

This year courses will be offered in the areas of home-making, farm shop business education and physical education. Two new courses which should be of interest to the many homemakers in the area are "Phases of Family Living" and "Facts of Living Together". The "Phases of Family Living" includes topics on interior decoration, food freezing, home lighting and appliances, flower arranging, home nursing and first aid, furniture refinishing, paints, and wallpaper, hat decoration, modern washing, cosmetics, kinds of meat cuts and prices, meal planning and short-cuts, and foundation garments. It is planned to include ten topics in the ten weeks of the course. Specialists in the various fields of homemaking will be used as resource persons.

Another of the homemaking courses is planned for both the husband and wife. This class is entitled "Facts of Living Together". Since this course is primarily designed for couples the $10 registration fee will include both man and wife. There has been an expressed need of parents in the community to be presented with information similar to that provided by family service agencies, to learn more and to be helped to think thru the relationship of husband and wife. There is also a felt need for parents to have a better understanding of the emotions and growth development of their children, as well as developing a good talking relationship with teen-agers concerning sex, dating problems and their own body growth.

The homemaking department will also offer a clothing construction course which will include beginning sewing, advanced sewing, and slip covering. Helpful sewing hints will be featured at each class session. The three classes will be offered on Thursday evenings. The vocational agriculture farm program will include three courses this fall. One of the courses is "Farm Tractor and Machinery—Maintenance Adjustments and Repairs". This course is designed to help farmers make the necessary repairs and adjustments on their farm machinery. The second course is "Electrical Wiring for the Farm and Home". This is a shop course in wiring jobs around the home. The University of Illinois furnishes the complete kit of materials necessary for the course. The third course in "Farm Welding" is designed for those farmers who are interested in learning how to weld with either of both Arc and Oxy-acetylene welding equipment. It will deal with anything from the most simple welding operations to the most difficult farm welding jobs.

The business education department this fall will offer courses in beginning typing, bookkeeping, and shorthand.

A art class is also planned to meet a wide variety of interests ranging from adults who want to just "dabble" in a particular field, to the teacher desiring more information on elementary art work.

The physical education department is offering women's recreation classes which will present an excellent opportunity to get some exercise and enjoy it. Badminton, table tennis, volleyball and many other recreational games will be included.

A very popular course in the past is being offered again this year in the investment field. Maurice P. Angland of Mokena who has offered this course during the past two years will again be the instructor. The course will include information which will help in the analysis of financial reports, provide a background in the investment market, comparison of various industries and market prices will also be featured in this course.

Can Transplant Beauty of Woods In Glass Garden

By ROBERTS MANN
(Conservation Editor, Forest Preserve District)

Sometimes, wandering in the woods, we come across a jewel like elfin landscape: seedlings, tiny creeping vines and sprigs of greenery peeping through a cushion of moss—a scene of natural beauty the size of one fourth this page or smaller. On hands and knees, we gaze in wonder at its perfection and wish that we could have it, or its equal, for our own. Surprisingly, that is possible.

With a little care, such a gem can be transplanted into a terrarium or enclosed glass garden where it will thrive indoors. Or, more often, plants and other materials for these small scale habitats are collected, bit by bit, on field trips. Some people do this as a hobby. The opportunities for variety—imitating wet woodlands, bogs, prairies, deserts, rocky glens or what you wish—are almost endless. In a schoolroom, terrariums are living demonstrations of water cycles, details of growth, and the adaptations and interrelationships of a natural community, which may be watched at close range.

The uses of a terrarium were accidentally discovered in 1829 by Dr. Nathaniel Ward, an English physician. He soon learned, that in spite of London's fog and smoke, delicate ferns and mosses would thrive in such glass gardens.

After a few years, larger containers, now called "wardian cases" were used to keep plants healthy when carried to and from foreign countries, often by sailing ships on voyages that lasted many months. The humid atmosphere inside a terrarium is also well suited for the rooting of cuttings and for germinating seeds hard to grow.

Almost any clear glass container, from an ordinary Mason jar up to a large show case can be used. A rectangular aquarium, even a leaky one, makes a good terrarium. One of the simplest is a wide-mouthed gallon jar with a screw top, laid on its side in a frame to keep it from rolling. Other types can be made in a school shop. A half inch layer of gravel, coarse sand or crushed stone, on the bottom, provides drainage and a reservoir for moisture. Over glass, and pussy toes or squaw loam, damp but not wet, in which peat may be mixed and also a few pieces of charcoal to keep the soil sweet.

In a closed terrarium, if started with the proper amount of moisture, fine droplets condense on the walls and top until they fall and are absorbed by the soil. If the drops become large, the lid should be loosened until some of the water evaporates.

The life of a terrarium is often ruined by molds which develop as a result of too much moisture. Further, these little gardens need light but direct sunlight may cause the plants to "scald." With a little pruning and sprinkling, they often last for years.

A wide selection of small native plants will thrive under glass. Slabs of liverwort and various kinds of mosses, growing on soil, make good ground cover. Tiny ferns, small violets, wild ginger, slips of ivy, or almost anything that is of the right size and strikes your fancy, can be tried. Also a different type

"Bill of Rights for Athletes"

The heavy and growing emphasis on sports in our high schools and colleges has inevitably increased the chance of injury. That has caused the American Medical Association's committee on injury in sports to prepare a "Bill of Rights for athletes."

"The athlete," the Committee observes, "has the responsibility to play fair, to give his best, to keep in training, to conduct himself with credit to his sport and his school. In turn he has the right to optimal protection against injury as this may be assured through good technical instruction, proper regulation and conditions of play, and adequate health supervision."

The importance of good coaching cannot be minimized. Technical instruction leading to skillful performance helps in lowering the incidence and decreasing the severity of injuries. And good coaching includes the encouragement of tactics, outside either the rules or the spirit of the rules, which may increase hazards.

Good officiating is another need. Rules to protect players as well as to promote enjoyment of the game should be thoroughly understood by all involved, and be enforced by impartial and qualified officials.

Good equipment and playing facilities are major defenses against injury. The use of cheap, worn out, outmoded or ill fitting gear is false economy.

Finally, good medical care is another essential. The committee divides this into three elements. Participants in sports should be given a thorough physical examination—many tragedies occurring each year result from unrecognized health problems. A physician should be present at all contests and be readily available during practice sessions. And in all medical matters, the physician's authority should be absolute and unquestioned.

These are all simple stipulations. Following them can and will cut the hazards of any sport to the minimum.

On Second Thot

By GLENN F. LOGAN

Altho the summer has been a short one, the days this month have been kept in the warming oven of the sun's stove so they will be ready to bring out when Indian summer arrives.

There have been some high temperatures recorded this month but when the evenings draw in there is an edge to the breeze and ground mists shift and waver in the moonlight. It will not be long now before Fall arrives—actually as well as by calendar.

If one goes by the calendar autumn is just around the bend in the road. Autumn makes its official bow at 8:10 a.m. next Tuesday morning, Sept. 23. And in these latitudes it will not be too long before the foliage begins to take on the gold and crimson tints that make Fall the great spectacular—to borrow from the language of the movies and TV—that it is.

Nor will it be too long before frost shrouds gardens and grass, and lawns sparkle and glisten in the morning sun. Then come the first days when skim ice appears in stock tanks and at the edge of pasture ponds and one begins to think of winter.

To think of winter is a chilling thought—no pun intended—but there are many fine days ahead that we can enjoy before snow and icy pavements become the main topics of conversation.

Some people think of autumn as a melancholy time but personally autumn has always been a wonderful time of the year. Of course, there are some cloudy days, some rainy days and some days when a northeast wind mingles with the clouds and rain to make it downright disagreeable but usually the weather is fine. The sunshine is bright but not hot; the sky is a blue peculiar to the season and the air is crisp and invigorating.

The heat of summer, the cold of winter and the lethargy of spring holds most of us prisoners in the autumn we are free to come and go with a minimum of discomfort.

And another thing! It won't be too long now before the grass will begin bedding down for the winter. Probably lack of rain has a lot to do with it but the grass hasn't grown so fast the past 10 days. Not that I am complaining. The whirring of lawnmowers is a sound I can dispense with by the time fall rolls around. From May to September is a long time when divided into grass cuttings and this year was a fine one for the grass. It grew long, it grew thick and required cutting at least once a week and sometimes it was twice.

Barbering lawns is one chore that ends with fall, which should make it a happy time for most householders. Some may point out that it won't be too long before one will exchange the lawnmower for the snow shovel as the working tool of the season—but shucks, don't worry about snow.

There are always thaws.

Letter to the Editor

CODDLING VANDALS

Dear Editor: Are the reports I have read and heard about the vandalism hearing correct? If they are I feel it is very unfortunate that the children involved were present while the unlucky property owner was being questioned.

The very questions asked by the parents would suggest to the boys that if the quonset hut door had been left unlocked it was perfectly all right for the boys to enter and destroy.

If one of the attorneys present actually suggested that the hut was of little value, that too, would suggest that unless valuable property was violated the boys were justified in what they did.

It is true that a state trooper advised how the parents could prevent future trouble by becoming better and closer companions to their children then parents must feel humble indeed when this advice is deemed necessary.

You hear many older people say that when they were children and were punished at school they never complained, because they could, then, expect the same punishment at home. In other words their parents backed up authority.

What's the answer? If you, as a parent, do not agree with a teacher or other authority, investigate the situation if you will, but under no circumstances discuss it with the teacher or anyone else in the presence of the children.

If you want your children to have respect for law and order, to show fairness and kindness to other people and to animals, never let them get any idea that you are backing them up in mischief or destruction in which they may become involved.

Am I right?

Commonwealth Edison Co. has announced a new dividend policy wherein the company will distribute full amount of the company's earnings in cash and stock dividends each year. The management plans to pay a regular cash dividend of $2 plus the balance of the per share earnings in the form of a stock dividend. The company has announced that later this year it will pay a 2 per cent dividend in stock. The full share earnings this year are expected to be about $3.40 per share.

The stock dividend is, of course, not taxable as current income.

This stock is at present selling at 53, but for ease of calculation, assume the stock is selling at 50, the cash dividend represents a 4 per cent return plus a 2 per cent stock dividend.

Commonwealth is in an area which has an unusual growth potential. However, the electric utility business generally is a "growth" industry. For many years the electric utilities had to have 5 per cent of their capitalization in new capital each year to finance normal growth. Now this average of new capital required for growth is about 8 per cent.

Some of the better situated utilities such as Commonwealth Edison anticipate they will require closer to 10 per cent each year for the next ten years of the doubling of their present plant investment.

It seems likely that other electric utilities will also pay a regular cash dividend plus a stock dividend as this policy has much to recommend it. Any industry that must regularly go to the public with new offerings of stocks or bonds to raise needed capital, must make a special effort to make its securities desirable to the investing public in good and bad business weather.

There are few utilities which now make cash dividends and stock dividends supplemental payments a matter of policy. Utilities usually pay slightly over 6 per cent of their earnings in cash dividends; The balance being added to the company's earned surplus. Under the Commonwealth Edison plan this difference between cash dividends and total earnings, will be immediately capitalized thru issuance of stock.

It is characteristic of stocks paying cash and stock dividends to sell at a higher price - earnings ratio than those paying only cash dividends. Stocks paying cash and stock dividends meet the desires of a larger proportion of the investing public as represented by those who prefer a cash dividend as well as those who prefer a non-taxable stock dividend.

The American Electric Power (formerly American Gas & Electric) is one of the country's better utility holding companies. This company is following a policy of cash dividends plus stock dividends. Its earnings are about $2.42 a share and market price of the stock is about 42 or about 19 times earnings. Commonwealth Edison, one of the largest utility operating companies, is selling at about 15½ times earnings.

South Cook 4-H Federation elected officers at its recent meeting. The new officers are: President, Larry Heusmann, Chicago Heights; Vice-President, Jim Bussema, Chicago Heights; Secretary, Ruth DeBoer, Chicago Heights; Treasurer, Joan Uthe, Markham. These officers are tackling their new jobs with enthusiasm and will meet to plan the year's program of the 4-H Federation in the near future.

Older 4-H members in all 4-H clubs in the county are invited to attend the Federation meetings. The program is planned to include recreation, education, and service to the community and the 4-H program in Cook County.

If you are making plans for the coming year and are making up a calendar of events, be sure to include the dates April 2, 3 and 4. These are the dates of the Second Farm and Home Festival at the University of Ill. Over 15 thousand people attended this event last year. The Festival provides an opportunity for the people of Illinois to visit their college of agriculture and see for themselves how their tax money is being spent to make the best use of the latest methods in crop, livestock, home and family research, and in extension teaching in all parts of the state.

Farmers interested in sowing wheat, will be interested to hear that the Hessian fly population is at its lowest since 1954. The best time for seeding wheat in this county is September 19 to 22. These dates have been established over a period of years as best for achieving highest yields and the dates least likely to build up Hessian fly population.

Farmers should begin collecting soil samples now. You can beat the crowd at the soil testing laboratories if you get your samples in the very near future. In addition, summer samples are easier to collect and handle in the laboratory. Be sure to send a complete information sheet along with the samples. Previous crop and fertilizer history is important to good fertilizer recommendations.

Under the new agricultural act, corn growers will have an opportunity to determine by referendum in December, whether they wish continuance of acreage controls with price supports of not less than 75% of parity, or abolishing acreage allotments altogether and receive a price for their corn which would be 10% below the average market price for the three preceding years. The latter alternative would have provided a support of $1.27 a bushel for the entire crop if the program were in effect this year.

Diazinon has been approved for use on onions to control onion maggots. In tests by Bill Luckman, Entomologist at the U. of I., this material has been superior to Parathion both as a seed treatment and as a spray. It can be used within ten days of harvest.

The harvest season means a possibility of most farm accidents. The press of time, long working hours, and revolving gears, belts, shafts and snapping mechanisms of harvesting equipment, make it much easier for the careless farmer to have an accident than. Keep your harvest free from accidents. Shut off the power every time you leave the tractor seat. Keep the guards in place and do not wear loose or ragged clothing around machines with moving parts.

FPC Holds Up Gas Supply for Illinois Utility

Northern Natural Gas Company's request of August 22 for a temporary certificate to supply Northern Illinois Gas Company with 50 million cubic feet of natural gas daily has been denied by the Federal Power Commission.

"Naturally we are disappointed," Marvin Chandler, president of Northern Illinois Gas, said, "but we are hopeful that during the next few months the FPC will hold the required formal hearings and act favorably on Northern Natural's original application filed last March 19 covering this project."

"The same hopes are held for projects proposed by Midwestern Gas Transmission Company, Texas Illinois Natural Gas Pipeline Company, and Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America.

These could afford us enough additional daily supplies to make substantial inroads in our list of about 110,000 waiting for natural gas for house heating."

According to Chandler, the FPC denial makes it extremely doubtful that the utility will be able to release further house heat permits this year. He recalled that Northern Illinois Gas issued house heat authorizations on July 31 to about 35,000 residential customers as the result of an additional supply it expects to receive from Natural Gas Pipeline about January 1.

Chandler reported that the FPC action makes it unnecessary for the company to seek immediate financing.

Previously, he had announced that Northern Illinois Gas probably would need about $20 million in new financing this fall if construction went ahead on the pipeline and other facilities that would transport the hoped for Northern Natural supply from East Dubuque to the company's service area near Des Plaines.

No decision has been reached at the moment as to whether any permanent financing may be undertaken later this year, he said, pointing out that a $10 million line of credit with five Chicago banks had been arranged Aug. 1.
